Parents, check out these details on how to create a smile memory book with your family.

What you need:
- Notebook
- Phone or camera to take pictures
- Printed photos OR paper and non-toxic crayons
- Local map (optional)

Activity:
- Talk as a family about places in your neighborhood that make you smile.
- For extra fun, find these places on a map.
- With a grown-up leading the way, spend time visiting these places.
- Take pictures of the family smiling at each spot.
- When you get home, print the pictures or use them to draw the scene.
- Add the pictures or drawings to a notebook.
- Write what about each picture or drawing makes you smile.

Extra fun:
- When friends or family come over, share your smile memory book and let them pick a place to go visit.
